THE HIGH SCHOOL SITE

W. A. KULP MUCH ATTRACTED BY THE PROPOSITION OF MR. BUTTS

W. A. Kulp of 1211 East Wilson Avenue discussing the proposition set forth by Mr. Butts in the Evening News of last Friday said:

"I kind of like his idea. It never did seem to me that a business section was the proper place for a high school with every prospect of an expansion which would need beautiful surroundings and I do not think a business section lends itself to that sort of thing. The high school of Pasadena, Long Beach and many other places are away from the business district and I believe it produces a more pleasing result than you can get on what is bound to become a crowded thoroughfare. Every one is expecting Brand Boulevard to become business property well down below Colorado.

"I am not discussing, however, Mr. Butts' proposed location. If we could grow away from Brand Boulevard it wouldn't be so bad. But that can not be done without crossing the street. There are other things to be considered, too, as to whether we could get back the money already invested in the present site. One thing is sure, however, if the high school is going to remain where it is, we should acquire the Brand Boulevard frontage and do it right away. But if it could be moved away from the business center I think it would be a wonderful thing for the future of the high school. But the bulk of its attendants come from Glendale although of course it belongs to Eagle Rock as well. Because of these numerous Glendale students we would be apt to it would seem that the location should be one convenient to the majority. The students from Eagle Rock and La Crescenta come on the car any way, and a few minutes more or less on the way would make no radical difference.

The idea of getting away from the business district and the confusion that does not belong with school life is very attractive, but a city the size of Glendale has a good deal to consider when making radical changes of that kind. It is worth considering, anyway."

ADVENTIST CHURCH

EVERY TEACHER, PREACHER
AND LAYMAN A WORKER
FOR THE CHURCH

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Seventh-day Adventist church met at the church school on Isabel Street between Wilson and California streets Saturday night.

Prof. M. E. Cody of Berkeley, educational secretary of the Pacific Union Conference, was present and gave a talk on the customs and procedures of the denominational schools in general. Elder J. M. Christian, president of the Pacific Union Conference, was also present.

The school board met just previous to the open general session.

Dr. Thomson of Los Angeles gave the reading for the last day of the Week of Prayer, before the Seventh-day Adventist congregation at the Third Street school Sabbath morning. The topic of the reading was "The Need of Efficient Workers in the Cause of God," prepared by Elder A. G. Daniels, president of the General Conference.

"The proclamation of the gospel to mankind is a well-defined and colossal undertaking. The work required to do it is what the Bible calls the work of the Lord." Jeremiah 48:10. And those who do this work are said to be 'workers together with God.' 2 Corinthians 6:1. The nature of a message determines what shall be the character of its messengers. The gospel is a divine message, from its living God. It is a spiritual message for the regeneration of the heart. Its messengers must be of high character and noble purpose. The minister who is a co-worker with Christ will have a deep sense of the sacredness of his work, and of the toil and sacrifice required to perform it successfully. In his search for the lost sheep, he does not realize that he himself is weary, cold and hungry. He has but one object in view—the saving of the lost.

Not less than ten thousand men and women are now directly employed in the movement we are carrying forward. Among these are approximately three thousand preachers and licensed missionaries; seven hundred conference presidents, treasurers and stenographers; eight hundred employees in our printing plants, with two thousand colpor-

REAL ESTATE SALES

DEATH OF DANIEL ALLEWELT

Daniel Allewelt, whose serious illness was reported yesterday, passed away Monday afternoon, December 15th, 1919, at the home of his son, at 331 West Lexington Drive. He had been in failing health for some time and his death was not unexpected. He celebrated his 84th birthday the 7th of last August and was born in Hanover, Pa. At the age of 21 he moved with his parents to Central Illinois, where they settled in Peoria and where he resided until he came to California two years ago with his son, with whom he has made his home since the death of his wife nine years ago. Funeral services will be held at the Jewel City Undertaking Parlor Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at which Rev. E. H. Willisford will officiate. The remains will be sent east for interment in the family burial ground at Elmwood, Ill.

ANOTHER TENNESSEAN

As Will Alexander of 117 West Acacia was returning from a trip to the corner grocery he observed a man who had just alighted from a P. E. car carrying a grip who had a familiar look. Hastening to overtake him, prompted by curiosity, he discovered an old friend, R. L. Rankin, who had just arrived from Ridgeley, Tenn., to join the numerous other members of the colony from that community who are now located in Glendale. He is now at the Alexander home and expects to spend the winter here. Meanwhile the Tennessee colony gathers at the Alexander residence Sunday afternoons to congratulate themselves on being together in Southern California and talk over old times.

FUNERAL OF THOMAS J. MORGAN, JR.

Funeral services over the remains of Thomas J. Morgan, Jr., who died last Friday, December 12th, of pneumonia, were held Monday morning at nine o'clock at the Holy Family Catholic Church, Rev. James S. O'Neill officiating. They were largely attended and the floral tributes were numerous and very beautiful. A number of ex-service men were present, one of whom, Ed Moniot, in uniform, sounded taps. Deceased was a member of the local Elks' Lodge and all the pall bearers were members of that organization, those who performed the service being K. M. and B. J. Barton, Ray Galvin, Charles Perrung, Ed Kerri, and Stanley Frenz. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

GABRIEL D'ANNUNZIO WITHDRAWS

LEAVES FIUME AND ITALIAN TROOPS NOW OCCUPY THE CITY SAYS ROME DISPATCH

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, Dec. 16.—A press dispatch from Rome says that Gabriel d'Annunzio has finally withdrawn from Fiume and that Italian regulars are occupying the city.

"WETS" SEE HOPES VANISH

HOUSE AGRICULTURAL COMMITTEE VOTES 16 TO 3
AGAINST REPEAL OF WAR-TIME PROHIBITION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—The last hope of the "wets" in Congress that war-time prohibition might be repealed vanished today when the House Agricultural committee voted 16 to 3 against repealing war-time prohibition.

Congressional leaders agreed there is little hope of ratifying the peace treaty and of proclaiming peace before constitutional prohibition is effective. In the meantime a legal battle has been started in the supreme court to render constitutional prohibition ineffective. New Jersey liquor dealers have asked permission from the Supreme court to file an action to test the law, and an injunction has also been asked against enforcing prohibition in New Jersey. A similar action is expected in Rhode Island. The New Jersey action claims that the proclamation of ratification issued by the Secretary of State is invalid because Ohio later withdrew its ratification.

CONTEMPT OF COURT CHARGES

CONTINUED INDEFINITELY AGAINST THE UNITED MINE WORKERS BY FEDERAL JUDGE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 16.—Federal Judge Anderson today indefinitely continued the contempt of court charges which the government brought against United Mine Workers' officials during the coal strike. The action was taken at the request of the mine workers' attorneys who declared the accused men are now doing all possible to aid in the resumption of the normal production of coal. The order of continuance applied to all defendants except President Howatt of the Kansas district. His case was continued until Monday because the Kansas miners have not returned to work.

HARRY NEW TRIAL OPENS

THREE WOMEN CALLED FOR JURY SERVICE CHALLENGED
BECAUSE OPPOSED TO CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16.—The challenging of three women called into the jury box because they declared they did not approve capital punishment under any circumstances, marked the opening of the trial of Harry S. New for the murder of Freeda Lesser.

The courtroom and corridors of the court house were thronged and it was necessary to rope off a passage-way to the courtroom to bring New into court and permit attaches to move around. New was noticeably nervous and had an attitude of suppressed emotion. He listened intently to every word spoken throughout the morning session while the attorneys were questioning prospective jurors.

WAR GHOST LAID

DANGER OF RESUMPTION OF HOSTILITIES WITH GER-MANY BELIEVED TO BE PASSED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, Dec. 16.—Danger of resumption of hostilities with Germany was finally averted today when the Supreme Council announced that the German reply to the allied note on the peace treaty protocol was most conciliatory in tone, and that "the allied reply will be dispatched to Berlin quickly." The Germans have agreed to sign the protocol with but few minor changes.

The Supreme Council also considered the question of assisting Austria and decided that American aid is absolutely necessary if a famine in Austria is to be averted. Austrian Chancellor Renner addressed the council and asked that a regular food supply program for Austria be drawn up.

JEALOUS OF AMERICAN INTEREST

MINISTER CABRERA OF MEXICO DECLARES EVENTS
SHOW WISDOM OF NOT JOINING ALLIES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 16.—The Minister of the Treasury, Cabrera, today issued a lengthy statement declaring if Mexico had joined the allies in the war, the United States would have absorbed her politically and commercially. Said he: "America interprets the Monroe doctrine as meaning that Mexico is an exclusive camp for American expansion. The wisdom of remaining neutral in the war is now proven."

He denied the allegation that Mexico is favoring England against the interests of the United States.

ELKS ROSTER GROWS

TWENTY CANDIDATES INITIATED
AT MONDAY NIGHT MEETING.
NEW APPLICATIONS

Initiation ceremonies again occupied most of the session at the regular meeting of the Glendale Elks Lodge Monday evening when twenty candidates for membership were initiated, the list including residents of Glendale, Burbank, Van Nuys and Lancaster, as follows: J. E. Peters, Joseph V. Griffin, John A. Pope, John M. Stadt, Louis B. Nunn, Clyde E. Parker, Jesse A. Richardson, William Greenwood, George E. Marshall, Herbert H. Hayes, William Crawford, John A. Dewar, Arthur E. Griffin, L. L. Perrin, Albert M. Hull, Fred G. Abbey, Ray Engelson, Clyde M. Goodnow, Robert E. Hernsins, and William Mead Chapman.

The meeting was largely attended and much enthusiasm was manifested. The applications for membership were received and eight were ballotted upon. A roast beef supper followed the session, but there were no amusement features.

EPWORTH LEAGUERS

ENTERTAINED BY MISS MURPHY
IN HONOR OF PRINCIPALS IN WAR ROMANCE

Quite a company of young people from various Southern California communities were entertained Saturday evening by Miss Ethel Murphy of this city at her home at 421 North Brand Boulevard. The guests of honor were Miss May Woods of Piedmont Drive, Altadena, and Clark Heaton of St. Paul, Minn., whose marriage will be celebrated at Altadena December 28th. A general reception was followed by a program of games in which the hostess was assisted by her sisters and brother. Refreshments were then served and the honoree of the day, Miss Woods, was the recipient of a miscellaneous shower which included many useful and handsome gifts which will add materially to the furnishings of her home to be.

Miss Woods has been prominent in Epworth League work in Southern California for several years, serving as second vice president of the Pasadena District. Mr. Heaton was recently discharged from army service after having done his bit overseas. He and his fiancée met while he was in camp at Fort McArthur, where she was engaged in canteen work.

PROSPECTIVE RESIDENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Botsford and daughter, Bella, were dinner guests Monday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Greenwalt at 408 Oak Street. Mr. Botsford is superintendent of the Moreland Truck Factory and has purchased a home on Central Avenue. One of the Glendale attractions which induced him to become a property owner is our fine High School. The family will move to Glendale in time for Miss Botsford to enter for the spring semester. She is an accomplished musician and will find a congenial environment in the school.

ATTEND INSTITUTES

TEACHERS GATHERING INSPIRATION AND PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS

The great business of the present week all over the state among teachers is institutes in which they gather much inspiration, spiritual and otherwise, and exchange ideas as to methods.

In Los Angeles two series of these gatherings are in progress, one for teachers of the city schools, the other teachers of the county. The instructors were privileged to attend either, and some from this city who are not Los Angeles teachers attended the city sessions. Mr. A. W. Tower, who is a L. A. teacher, was quite favorably impressed by the address made yesterday morning by Dr. Rinehart of Mills College, San Francisco, on the subject "The World Opportunity of the American Teacher." It was along the line of citizenship, i. e., the making of good citizens out of the material that comes to the hands of the teachers in its most plastic state.

Dr. David Snudden of the Teachers' College, Columbia University, spoke in the morning before Los Angeles teachers on professional improvement of teachers and their organization. He tried to outline a scheme of organization adapted to

SEEING THE WORLD

W. D. MACRAE TELLS STORY OF TRIP TO WASHINGTON, PHILADELPHIA, ETC.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. McRae of 634 North Kenwood Street arrived home Sunday from their five weeks' trip East. Mr. McRae in discussing the main features of their journey after leaving Canada said:

"Our interesting experiences went well beyond our expectations. The three days in Washington was easily the climax of all. Through the courtesy of Senator Phelan we were admitted to the visitors' gallery of the senate and heard a fairly lively discussion of the sugar question, which is troubling Easterners a great deal. When we looked in on the House representatives were wrestling with the problem of better public service for the city of Washington itself. There is a general feeling among the people that the city is not as well managed as other American cities. The Supreme Court we found getting the facts relative to the ownership of a mine in Montana. The White House having been closed to the public for several months, we contented ourselves with an intensified view from all directions on the outside.

"Our return to California on schedule time was placed in jeopardy when the feminine section of our party discovered the costumes worn by the wives of the various presidents as exhibited in the National Museum. Mrs. Roosevelt's appeal to me most, remarked Mrs. McRae, 'because of its simplicity, but I think Mrs. McKinley's and Mrs. Taft's are the most elaborate.' "To look on the original copy of the Declaration of Independence, the flag that inspired Francis Scott Key to write 'The Star Spangled Banner,' the original records of the first continental Congress, the suit that George Washington wore when he commanded the Continental Army and the many other historical articles and documents to be found in the National Museum and Congressional Library, made the history of our country very real and inspired us all with greater admiration than ever for the founders of our nation.

"Fortunately our friends in Philadelphia lived in the Germantown section. As we rode along Germantown Avenue Mrs. McRae and I vied with each other to see who could point out the oldest building. She

MUSICAL AFTERNOON

A very interesting and entertaining afternoon was spent at the home of Miss Dorothy Lee, 345 North Belmont Street, on Saturday afternoon, December 13th, when she presented her piano pupils to their mothers and friends. Miss Genevieve Ganaway of Spokane, Washington, assisted by singing several children's numbers, and after a short program illustrative of the pupils' work, light refreshments and a social time were enjoyed by all. Those taking part on the program were Marian Faranel, Anna Diederich, Lois Wardell, Gerald Richardson, Lawrence McIntyre and Kenneth Lee.

The hostess was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Ed M. Lee.

P-T. A. FEDERATION

REPORTS RECEIVED AND ROUTINE BUSINESS TRANSACTED
AT SHORT SESSION

Members of the Glendale Federation of Parent-Teacher Associations held their regular monthly meeting Monday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock at the Intermediate School, with the president, Mrs. A. A. Barton in the chair. She stated she had attended the district and state meetings, the Woman's Legislative Council, and had served on an advisory council appointed to act with the trustees of city schools, and that she had also been asked to serve on a high school bond committee.

All chairmen reported progress in their respective activities. The federation voted to donate $1 per month for the balance of the year to a fund which is being provided through co-operative effort by various P. T. A. federations, the fund to be expended for needs of children while in the custody of the probation court. The donation from the Glendale organization will total about $8. Announcement was also made of plans for a patriotic celebration to be held in February in which the children in all the Glendale schools will participate. It was a short session and when reports had been received and business transacted, an adjournment was taken.

EASTERN MYSTERY PENETRATED

There are mysteries of the far and ancient East that, now and then through the centuries, may be penetrated by the occidental mind. Some of them have been—and one of them is soy sauce. That substance, they say, has gone into all the meat sauces—all the good ones, at least—that the Western world has consumed through all the years. But it has been made only in the Far East—in Japan and China. Now, it has been made in the United States—by the Government of the United States, through its fermentation experts in the Bureau of Chemistry of the Department of Agriculture.

The work has been going on only about a year, and it is said to take five years to make some qualities of soy sauce, but the specialists have turned out a sauce that has the beautiful golden-brown color of the oriental output and that has a flavor much finer than the specialists themselves hoped for at the outset. The work will continue through other years, but, in the meantime, negotiations are pending with manufacturers who will probably produce it on a commercial scale in the United States. The work was begun with the aid of a professor in the University of Tokio, and has been carried forward by workers in the Bureau of Chemistry who worked with him.

The first step is to make a mixture of soy beans, boiled until they are fairly soft, and wheat, roasted until it is a little more than brown, and then crushed. To this there is added a small quantity of a mold known as the yellow-green aspergillus. The mixture is allowed to ferment, under definite conditions of temperature and humidity, for at least two and a half days. Then it is put into a brine strong enough so that the ultimate product will contain from 16 to 18 percent of salt. There it remains for from six weeks to two years, according to the quality of sauce desired. It is stirred every day, in order to give a measure of aeration. Finally, the finished sauce is pressed out.

The Japanese use this sauce in cooking meats, soups, rice, and other dishes. Its principal use in occidental countries has been for mixing with other ingredients of meat sauces. Its manufacture in the United States will afford an additional means of utilizing the soy bean, which recently has taken its place as one of the important leguminous crops of this country.

Y. W. C. A. HOSTESS HOUSES STILL OPEN

It is stated that Hostess Houses are fulfilling an important need among soldiers at present. At Camp Mills, L. I., for instance, an average of 1000 men are served in the cafeteria each day. The Hostess House is the only place where officers and men can procure food until their own mess is set up which frequently takes some time on the arrival of a regiment direct from overseas. This is true of many other camps. At Mitchel Field, the big aviation center which accommodates 55,000 men, the average number of soldiers fed daily at the Hostess House is 1500. At Hazelhurst Field, L. I., a camp with a normal population of 2000 men, the Hostess House which was built to care for 100 people at a time, has stretched its capacity to the extent of serving 27,000 meals in one month. The service which the Y. W. C. A. has rendered to soldiers in this one way is evidenced by the statement that 900,000 meals were served in fourteen Hostess Houses in one year.

This proposed ordinance is in most respects a copy of Ordinance covering these subjects now in force in the City of Los Angeles. It is intended to embody only those provisions which are generally deemed necessary and proper safe guards against fire hazard in places where gasoline is stored and handled. It would be greatly appreciated if those whose business might be affected by any of the terms of this proposed Ordinance, would secure a copy and study it carefully, calling attention to any of the provisions thereof which might be considered unnecessary or that would work an undue hardship on those affected thereby. ## Personals

Mr. Martin and family have moved into the house they recently purchased on Stanley Avenue.

F. W. Kille and family moved Saturday to the new home they recently purchased at 465 Oak Street.

Mrs. George E. Daniels is visiting her sister, Mrs. P. Olson in Los Angeles for a few days.

Mrs. Wright of San Francisco, daughter of Mrs. Hoffman on Stanley Avenue, is here with her two boys to spend the winter with her mother.

Miss Ruth Garner of Portland, Oregon, is visiting at the home of her brother, John W. Garner, at 600 North Louise Street, and will probably be here for several months.

The University Extension Course in Public Speaking met Monday night at the Intermediate School. Class members are quite enthusiastic about the work and the attendance is increasing.

Mrs. Laura Weaver of 402 East Harvard Street had the pleasure last week of entertaining Mrs. Markwith of Los Angeles. Mrs. Weaver is looking forward to the arrival of Mrs. Lauderdale and daughter from Boulder, Colorado, who will visit Mrs. Weaver for a while, but who are planning to locate permanently in Glendale.

W. E. Evans has hardly recovered yet from the surprise and pleasure of his big birthday party, but is complaining that its magnitude was curtailed by not including in the published account the names of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Goodwin, Mrs. Anna Jewell-Phillips, Miss Geradine Phillips, and his own little daughter, Katherine Evans, who were also guests.

Many are taking advantage of the opportunity to place their subscription dates to the Glendale Evening News well in advance before January 1 when the subscription rate is to be increased. Mrs. Alice Carvel is among those whose subscriptions came in yesterday. She enclosed check for $5, which advances her date a year and three months, and takes her well into 1921.

CHRISTMAS BOXES

Representatives of the various organizations which have formed the Welfare Council gathered in the room at the rear of the Red Cross Shop this morning to begin the packing of Christmas boxes, and it was a decidedly busy place. Goodly donations of food, fruit and clothing were turned in by the schools before they closed for the Christmas holidays and more are expected from the Sunday schools of the city to whom the appeal will be made Sunday. Quite a collection of toys has also come in but more are anticipated.

The Paso Robles Star says the clear enunciation required of telephone girls is making of them a race of sweet-voiced singers. But who wants to hear a vocal solo when he is in a hurry to get a number.

If you have a desirable room to rent your ad will come as a bit of good news to somebody.

WEATHER FORECAST: Fair to night and Wednesday. Frost Wednesday morning, in exposed places.

There are no laws to protect girls in India. In the cotton mills of Bombay alone are 22,000 women and girls, working under almost unbearable conditions. The Y. W. C. A. is helping them.

If it's desirable, it's salable; if it's salable it's advertisable.

GARAGE ORDINANCE

In order to give official approval to the general practice in vogue in Glendale in the building of garages, a new ordinance which conforms in most particulars with the ordinance in effect in Los Angeles regulating the construction of garages, has been prepared and will be considered by the Board of Trustees at an early date. Believing that it will be of interest to automobile owners and builders, whose views they would be glad to have, the trustees have had copies of the proposed ordinance printed and the same are on file at the City Hall to be given out to all persons sufficiently interested to call for them. The ordinance also covers the installation of gas pumps at curbs, etc.

ELKS' DANCE

The dancing party given Saturday evening by the Elks at their club house at which Messrs. Webb and Hastings were the committee in charge, was a very successful affair. It was entirely informal both as to costume, and other dance features, no programs or other expenses being incurred which would in any way cut down the receipts which were all devoted to the charity fund. Approximately $250 was realized for the Christmas purse. This is the last social affair of its kind which the Elks will give until their New Year's eve dinner dance comes off.

INSTITUTES

their profession that not compromise their dignity, appearing to think that the labor union is not just the thing for them. He recommended the group organization according to the subjects taught, but after all his plan was not so very different from a union. Mr. Tower says, only he would camouflage the issue by making it so diversified that the public would not think they were being always asked for money. In the afternoon he addressed the county teachers on vocational training.

The county institutes opened with an address by Superintendent Mark Keppel on "Teachers' Problems," in which he covered seven or eight different matters such as salaries, teachers' organizations and loyalty to them, legislation at Sacramento and national legislation, the problems of the school room and being patient with the trying pupils.

Following Mr. Keppel was Prof. Thompson of the University of Colorado at Boulder, who talked on "Impression, Expression and Fixation," both as applied to the class room and in a general way as applied to the teacher's attitude toward life.

A. H. Chamberlin, editor of "The Sierra News," the state journal for teachers, reported on work among the soldiers in France.

Sarah Louise Arnold, president of Simmons College, a celebrated school for girls in Boston, spoke on "The Mother Tongue and Our Duty to It." W. D. Root of this city, who was present and heard the address, pronounced it a very good one.

Another afternoon speaker was Superintendent Roy Cloud of San Mateo County, who gave quite an inspirational address on the teacher and his relation to his work. In fact most of the addresses, according to Mr. Root, were inspirational rather than technical.

IN THE SHADOW

(Contributed)
Starred with rainbow-petalled bloom was the couch where Aaron S. Dodge lay asleep Saturday afternoon. It was fragrant not alone with dewy buds but with the distilled essence of love which more than all else is worth while. There came from those nearest and dearest to him flowers of great beauty, a pillow of roses, white and pink carnations, sweet violets with sprays of narcissus, while from the Masons came a stand of smilax and maiden-hair fern with the emblem of the square and compass in carnations and sweet peas. Many friends mingled their floral thoughts of older days.

Rev. C. R. Norton, a particular friend of the family, conducted the last services for the beloved man at the Jewel City Undertaking Company, Saturday afternoon at two o'clock.

In simple and impressive manner he drew an analogy between sleep and death and there stole into the hearts of the sorrowing ones something of the "peace which passeth understanding."

Mrs. Henry Johnson and Mrs. Ed M. Lee were requested to sing and they sang "Mercies of Earth," and "Come Unto Me When Shadows Darkly Gather."

The Masons took charge, reading the committal services at the grave in beautiful Forest Lawn and those acting as pall bearers were: Dan Campbell, Frank Campbell, H. P. Coker, Calvin Whiting, J. L. Denney of Glendale and C. H. Spicer of Fillmore, Mo., the two last mentioned were the oldest members of Lincoln Lodge in Fillmore, of which Mr. Dodge was a member at the time of his death and acquaintances of 56 years' standing.

The deceased was a resident of Glendale for thirteen years, was a native of Maine and was 81 years old. He had many friends here and elsewhere.

DOCTOR SUGGESTS AERIAL HOSPITALS

LONDON, (By Mail).—Aerial hospitals floating 5,000 feet above England is the apparently fantastic dream of a number of experts who are endeavoring to persuade the ministry of health to take over from the air ministry airships of the R34 type, which successfully accomplished the trans-Atlantic flight under General Maitland, and which proved themselves superior to Germany's Zeppelins as regards length of flight and time in the air.

The announcement of the sale of the R38 to the United States navy department, and of possible similar sales at an early date, considerably disappointed many who advocate British air supremacy at all costs, and they are supporting medical enthusiasts in the hope of saving these huge and costly airships from the air ministry's economy axe.

Interviewed by the London Globe, a leading doctor attached to the Royal Air Force during the war, declared that the airships would provide wonderful treatment for the cure of consumption and other diseases. Patients would be able to live for several days or weeks at a height of 5,000 feet, enjoying complete rest and breathing air as pure as that of any of the most famous mountain spas.

"It is no use a doctor telling a poor patient to go to Davos Platz or any other expensive mountain resort for consumptives," the doctor said. He can't afford it. But an airship can go higher than any mountain and the air 5,000 feet above London is as good as anywhere else. Airships of the R34 and R38 type could be fitted up as sanatoria for patients suffering from consumption, anaemia, neurathenia, and other ills, and could, except in very wild weather, cruise about for weeks at a time."

ALL OVER THE WORLD

Nearly 5,000 women sail each year from Kobe, Japan, for America. The Y. W. C. A. gives them demonstrations and instructions in American customs and clothing before they sail.

In China, the Association is doing a great work in physical education and in teaching women to read. At present only one woman in a thousand can read.

Girls in South America until very recently have been kept behind closed doors, and unmarried women were almost outcasts. Now they are being given a chance to support themselves, and the Y. W. C. A. is forming clubs for them.

A NEGRO POTATO KING

"It is to the best interest of all the negroes in the United States to live on the land and make a living out of the soil. They are not fitted for anything else. I'd like to go to Kansas City and St. Louis and Chicago and New York and Philadelphia and say, as Moses said to Pharaoh: 'Let my people go!'"

This statement was made by June C. Grove, a negro, born a slave in 1861, who came to Kansas at the age of seventeen with a capital of 75 cents. "Not long ago," writes Donald Angus in the "Country Gentleman," "he was offered $200,000 cash for his farm. The Potato King, as he is known in the Kaw River bottom, politely refused the offer on the spot. His 523 acres are not for sale at any price. Living with him on the farm are his eight sons and three daughters, their wives and husbands, and his eight grand-children. Four of the boys are graduates of the Kansas Agricultural College. When the family becomes too large for the home place, 1600 acres which Grove owns in another county will take care of the overflow. If it is in his power to prevent it, not one will ever become a city dweller."

The spirit of this man is well shown by a painting in his house, built ten years ago at a cost of $22,000. It shows the tiny cabin in a sugar grove on the Kentucky plantation where he was born. It was put there, he said, because "I wanted my children to see it three times a day so they would never forget the humble surroundings from which they sprung."

As might be expected, this one-time slave, now a highly respected man in his community, is a progressive farmer. He showed Mr. Angus his library of agricultural books, and told of his pride in building up the fertility of his land. Some of it has produced 416 bushels of potatoes to the acre.—Exchange.

Perhaps it's because some kinds of cheese need ventilation that they are so full of holes.

RARE SUGAR FOUND IN HONEY

Although known to occur in various forms, even perhaps as one of the constituents of the manna of Scripture, Melezitose is one of the rarest sugars. Minute quantities of it have been available to scientists for many years, but the supply has never been sufficient to permit of extensive experimentation. Now, by the aid of some Pennsylvania bees, many of which lost their lives, the United States Department of Agriculture has several kilograms of this rare substance, extracted and purified in the Bureau of Chemistry.

The bees in certain sections of Pennsylvania were storing up honey that crystallized, with the result that in the following winter seasons the bees were not able to digest it, and starved. The crystallized substance in the honey was found to be melezitose, which derives its name from inelez, the French name for the larch tree, on which it was originally discovered in the form of honeydew. It also occurs in a sugary incrustation, or manna, on a leguminous tree in Persia and adjoining countries. Recently it has been found by the Bureau of Chemistry in a similar product on the Douglas fir in British Columbia. And now it has turned up in Pennsylvania, stored away in the honeycomb, in numerous hives. In this instance the following origin of the substance has been worked out:

The scrub pine, and rarely other species of pine, are subject to attack by a plant louse and by a scale insect. In the course of their life activities these insects produce a honeydew which is rich in melezitose. In dry summers, after the white clover flowers have ceased to yield honey, the bees turn to this honeydew, and collect it; but it crystallizes as fast as they store it away. This occurred in 1917 and 1918, and considerable losses were suffered by beekeepers. In 1910 the weather was so moist during July that no melezitose was gathered by the bees at all. But it probably will be collected in future whenever the summer is dry; and the honey of central Pennsylvania may afford a permanent source of sugar previously so rare as to be only imperfectly known. The Bureau of Chemistry extracted considerable quantities from the honey of 1917 and 1918, and is making extensive experiments with it.

Rare as it has always been, there is a definite demand for melezitose for use in scientific laboratories. It can be distinguished from other sugars by certain peculiarities of crystallization observable with the polarizing microscope.

finally won when she said, "Oh, there is a house that was built in 1740." A trip through the plant of the Curtis Publishing Company gave us the impression that a big corporation employing thousands can take a practical interest in their employees both from a physical and artistic standpoint. Another visit to the Old State House, a tap on the old Liberty Bell and a good look at William Penn on the top of the city hall completed our stay in Philadelphia and impressed us afresh with the substantial character of the Quaker and made us feel that about the greatest thing in the world is being an American citizen.

We soon found our party included a number of army and navy officers, the mayor of New Orleans, bishops, an archbishop and a modest, soft spoken lady whom we were privileged to pilot to and from the eating houses and whom we guessed must be a missionary, but who turned out to be the wife of Admiral Rodman, the head of the Pacific fleet."
